Dear Diary—

Well, here we are in full view! Let me tell you all the wonderful things that have occurred
this year.....

Dear Sue,
This year has really been wild and all in all she had a great time. Of course being quite mates with you was a big help. We've had more laughs. Best you come back next year so we can start all over again. Come down and see me this summer.
There's nothing we hard we I'll probably be hard together!
can hit the bottle such a now that I'm on such a good subject I'll have to mention how great it will be to have a legal cigarette not that you haven't had your share anyway. Remember all those water and powder fights we had in the beginning to say nothing of that shower. I still maintain that your a clepto at heart.
How did you like thundering down to the barn at 6 in the morning. I wasn't prepared at all if you know what I mean. As you for ages. We've had on great friendship and a lot's keep it going lots of love,
Ann

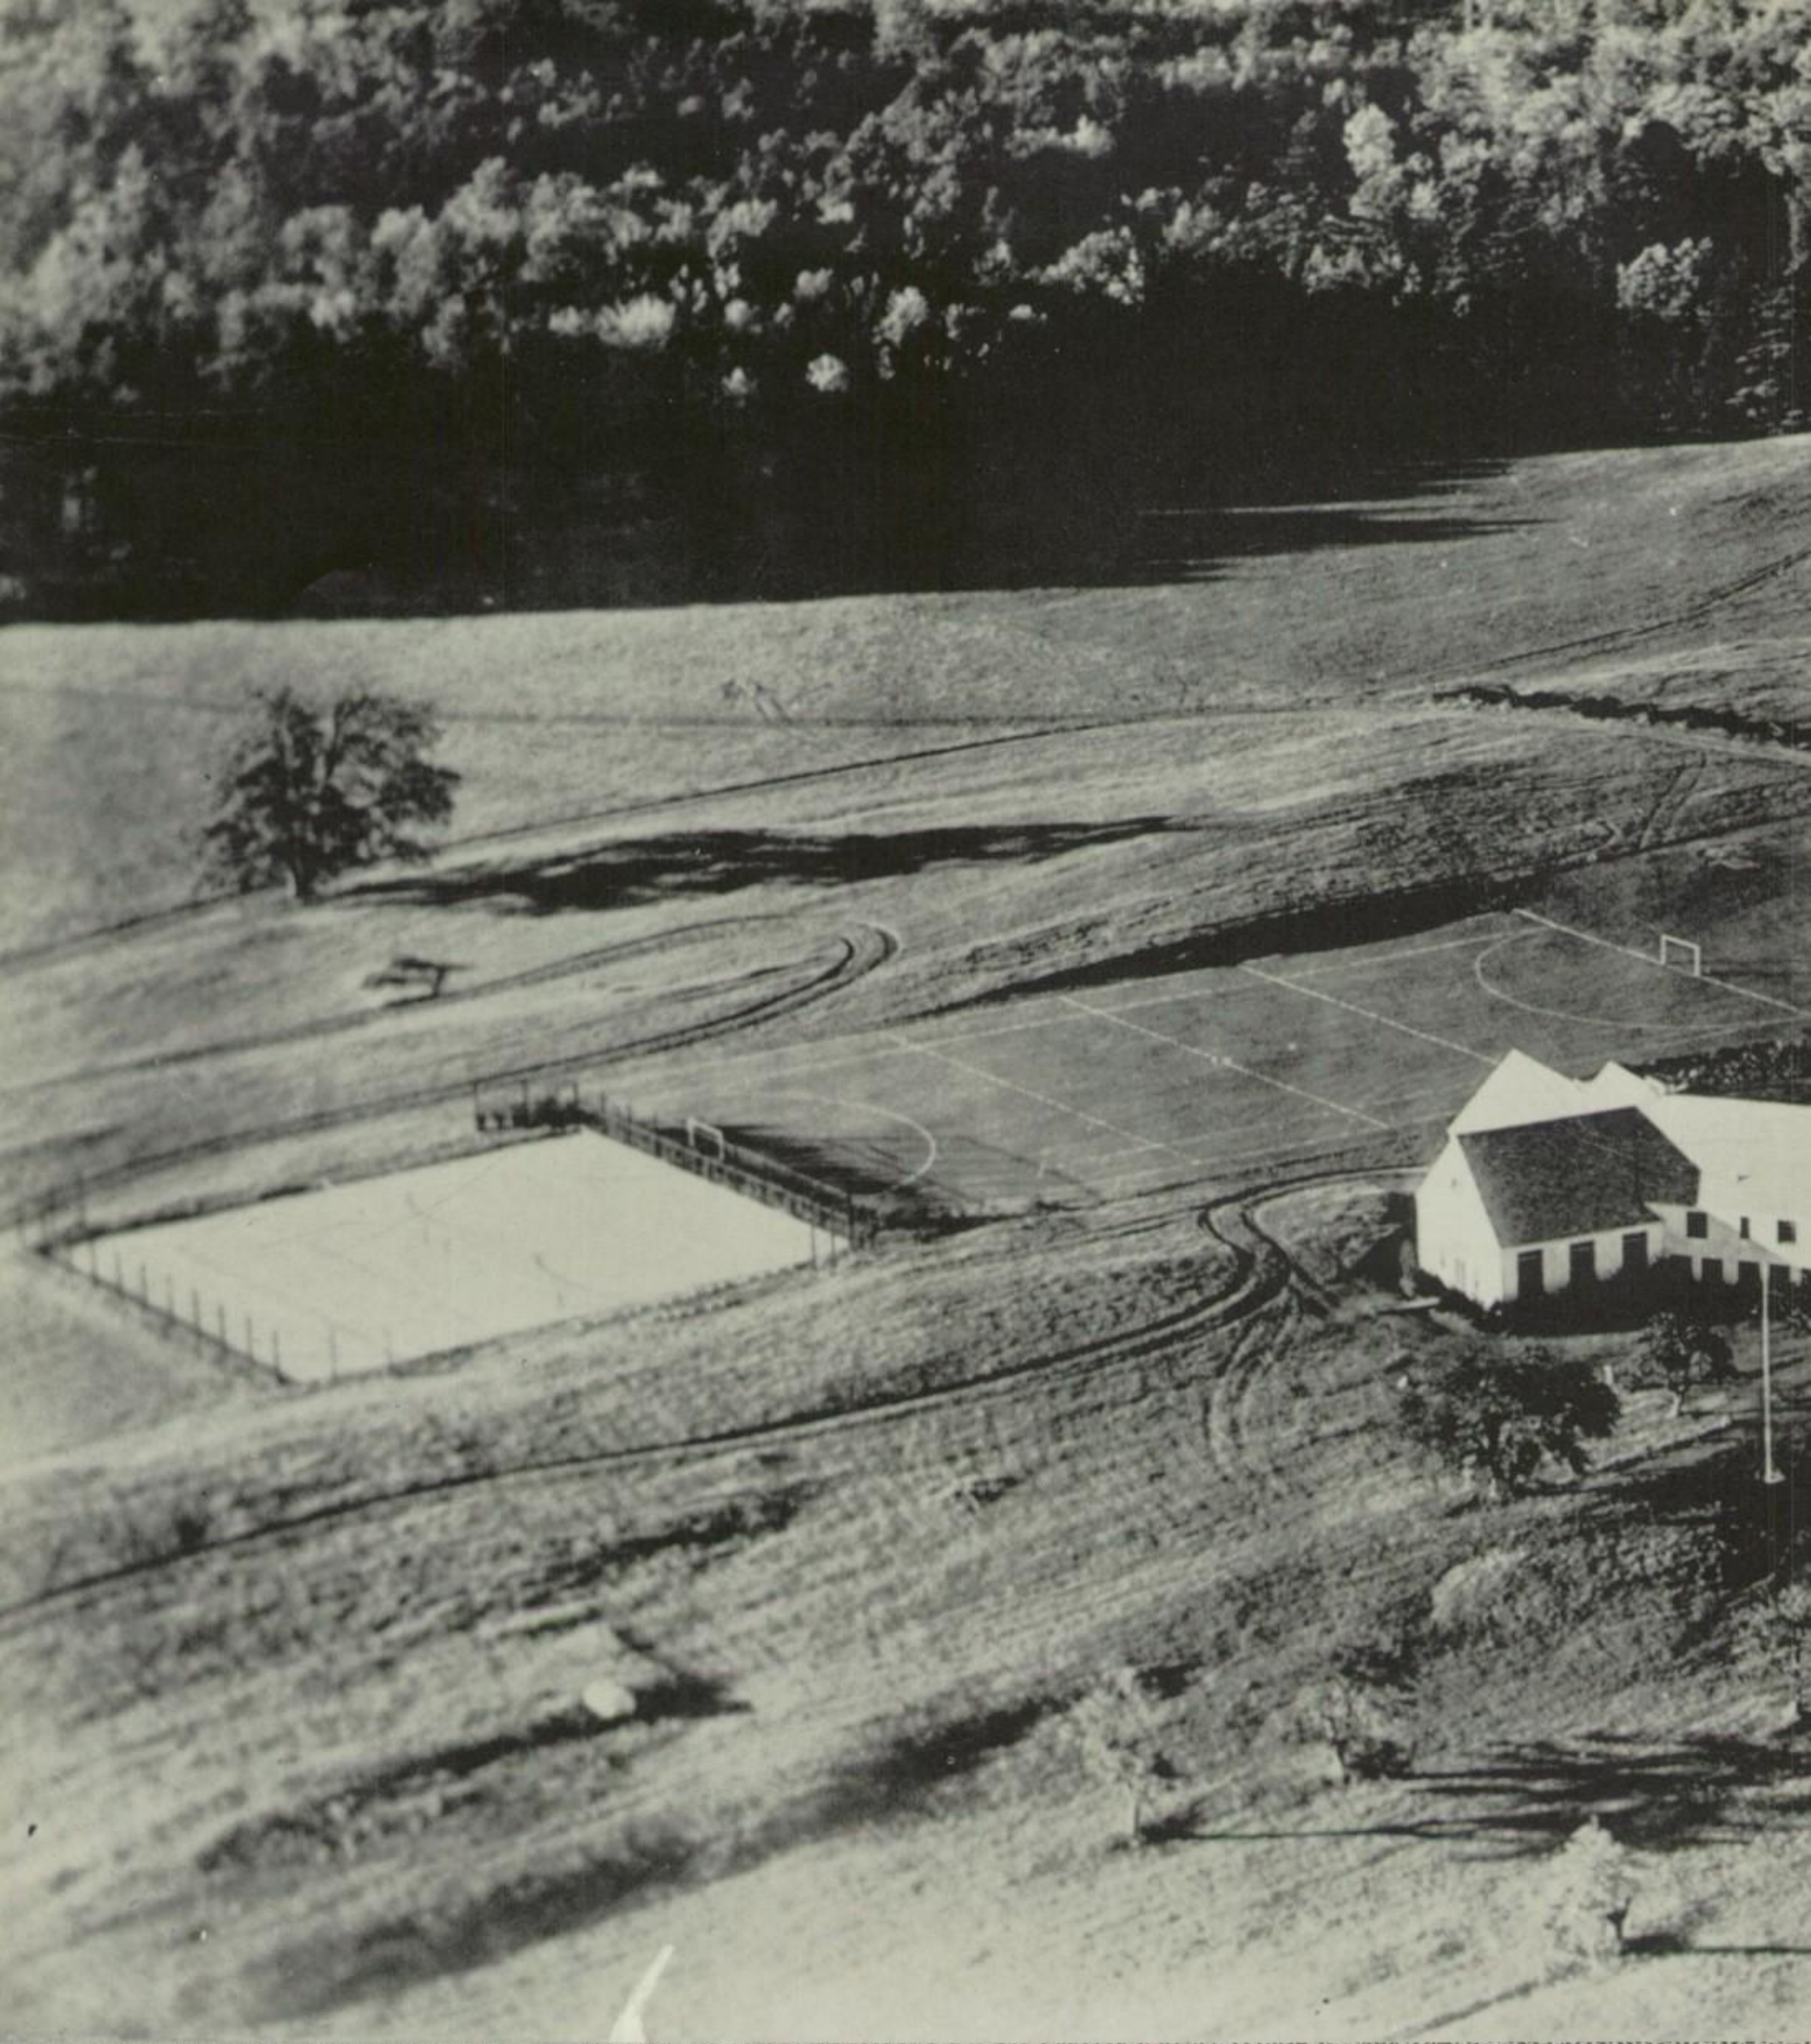

MARGARET LEES EMERSON

WITH DEEPEST RESPECT AND ADMIRATION

We are dedicating "our book" to one who has guided us with interest and understanding; to one who lends an open ear readily and knows when it is most needed; to one who offers inspiration and advice without hesitation. Her unfailing knowledge of human nature, gives us the confidence necessary to step into this uncertain world of today.

Therefore, we give this book with pride, never-ending love to . . . MRS. "E."

Seniors

Class of 1956

Dear Sue~

"Little sister" - the end has finally come and pretty soon you'll be watching us take "the long walk" - Time really does fly by and know it, you'll be before you

SANDRA LEA MOWRY

*"She lives, her heartbeats given to other's needs,
Her hands to lift for others on the way."*

A prize-winner in athletics and horsemanship, Sandy is also pretty, charming and a true friend to all "her seniors." Adept at many things, she has a wide assortment of prize ribbons for her triumphs. As proof of her ability for successful leadership, Sandy is president of her class and of the Riding Club and Chanticleer Team captain. She is always called upon for clever ideas since she possesses an imaginative mind and a reliable hand in management. "Mow" is wished by all her many and proud friends a very successful future.

be in the same position - Otto - you really are a riot and have kept me greatly amused by all that "fine" literature you read during sixth period - Learned much?!! Oh yes - thanks for all your warnings about Bonfire and puddles!!

"Twin" - best of luck and keep Stoneleigh rocking next year!

Love~
Sandy

ELANOR CAROL BLACK

*"With looks, whose brightness well might make
Of darker nights a day."*

Mad about clothes is our gal, Ellie! She's rarely seen without Vogue and often gives helpful tips on style, color scheme, etc. This lovely young lady with dark hair and green eyes is enthusiastic about both swimming and skiing. Seen in her flashy bathrobe, her capers often remind us of intricate Spanish choreography. Whenever a discussion is in progress, this alert gal can be found participating with gusto. All our well-wishes go with this Boston mademoiselle.

KAREN ALLENE BROOKS

*"And like the brook her voice was low:
So soft the words she spoke."*

Kitties and bunnies seem to be Brooksie's main interests, to say nothing of a strong sentiment for a certain guy from "Hometown, U. S. A."! A talented girl, Karen is co-art editor of the Yearbook, but her specialty is drawing Persian kittens. Her sparkling personality and snappy wit are sorely missed when Brooksie is absent, and her friendly manner makes everyone glad to have her around. Busy with her Council Activities and Glee Club report, she still finds time to lend an ear to all our difficulties.

FRANCES ANNE BURNHAM

"And all the beauty of the place
Is in thy heart and on thy face."

Five years and Burnie hasn't yet given up on Stoneleigh or vice-versa! A hard worker and a competent manager, Burnie is responsible for many successful projects (recall Junior Prom of '55) at which many of us might have grossly failed. Maine holds a definitely strong attraction for the girl whom anyone would be proud to call a friend. She will long be remembered for her serene guidance and unbiased judgment as House Council President. Burnie will always be thought of with a smile and many fond memories.

Dear Sue,
Graduation is almost here & the year traveled by just like they all do. One thing I've always liked about S.P.H. is the fun & laughter some of the girls decidedly bring with them & believe me you certainly did that. I don't believe I've ever seen you without a smile on your face. You've got good qualities & I'm sure to use them. Keep up some S.P.H. spirit next year - can always use it. Take care of the old place & help keep it going. Best of luck to you next year & in the future. Burnie up some S.P.H. spirit next year - can always use it. Take care of the old place & help keep it going.

BRENDA LEE COSSEBOOM

"A kind, true heart, a spirit,
That could not fear, and would not bow."

Horses, accordions, and the candy store are Cosse's main world. A heart of gold is her most prominent characteristic, while we wonder what ulterior motives prompt her interest in phone duty. Cosse's always a willing helper at Tableaux and has an ardent interest in the stage, though not acting. Her many versatile talents range between extremes such as reading poetry and her job of Fire Chief! Stoneleigh won't be the same without casual and fun-loving Cosse.

Hi!

Sue:-

What to say is a problem...

But must admit it's been a howl knowing you - It seems

NANCY MAY CUSACK

"And so she came like sunbeams That bring the April green."

A sweet voice and a bubbly laugh personify Nanc, who is proud to have spent four years at Stoneleigh. In addition to Glee Club President, she is active in the Dramatic Club and makes a lovely angel in the Christmas Tableaux. Her excess energy, of which she has plenty, is somewhat consumed on the soccer field! The college of her choice will be proud of our "Lady of the Lamp" and we wish Nancy luck in her nursing career.

everytime I come down to your room I'm in complete stitches..
The Junior Prom was really loads of fun, - You must be tired of me harping on a certain someone.. - Yes I will admit I'm ticked...

Also our many train rides together - when you were wealthy and also when you weren't...

Just come back next year and keep the old S.P.H. spirit up - with that laugh
how can you miss -
Don't forget to buzz up to Greenwich and see me - And take good care of Pelham - Be Good. and I doubt that I can ever forget that bubbling Sophomore from Pelham -

LYNNE ANN FALK

*"Such good companionship was hers,
She could not be alone."*

A real sweet girl, and a willing friend is Lynne, whose contagious happiness is always a comfort. Her burning ambition is to be a teacher of either kindergarten or nursery school in which she has had some experience. Though a petite girl, she makes up her lack of inches by her warm friendliness. Lynne's outward appearance would make one think her quiet, but one gets a shocking surprise upon getting to know her! She hails from the "Big Town" and prefers a college somewhere in New York State. With such a likeable manner she will surely succeed.

BARBARA HELENE FLASHMAN

*"For who can see and then forget
The beauty of my gay brunette."*

It's unmistakably Boston that we recognize in Flashie's speech and mannerisms! She has "coordination plus" on ice skates, and can often be found punching the stop watch for Stoneleigh's team sports. Her dreams came true when she finally acquired a pair of black framed specs, though they have quickly grown "old hat" after a bit of overuse. As Liber Anni business manager, Flash is seldom seen without her notebook and pencil. Undoubtedly, her great speaking ability will be an asset in college in addition to valuable preparation for a career in Speech Therapy.

SUZANNE MARIE FUNSTON

"Strong in thy steadfast purpose be Like some brave master of the sea."

A much envied girl for her natural blonde hair is Sue. Although always raving about the strange fascination of the cold, cold North, her warm laugh makes her a welcome companion. Sue is a never-to-be-downed hockey player and rarely says "no" to a trip to the Snack Bar! A red coat is a sure sign that Sue's around and in the future years we will always look for a red coat at the elementary schools where Sue expects to teach.

NANCY DEAN HACKETT

"Who can sing at a husking—or romp at the shearing;
Who can trip through the forests—alone without fearing."

An enthusiastic pianist, rider, actress and helper is "Hackett." She's always ready to fill in when plans go wrong and can be counted on for her creative efforts. Locking up the school every night is Nancy's special job and she's an ardent admirer of Gilbert and Sullivan. Nancy looks forward to some active years at school where she will go through rigorous training to become a physical education teacher. A fullback in soccer, she is an alert defenseman and holds her own in diving. We'll remember you with affection, Nancy.

Hi, I AM STILL here - Study study -

Boy - that bein' really great knowing you this year and you started out on the right foot.

GAIL RAMONA HAWTHORNE

"Who, in her realm, as in the soul of man, Alternates storm with calm—"

Another five-year girl, Gail looks forward to the traditional steak dinner given by the school. Gail's interest in her job as Fire Warden is not half as warm as her interest in Bunsen Burners. Outdoor activities extend to the Snack Bar and, inside, she helps glamorize the store by her good looks. Gail has high hopes of becoming an elementary school teacher and we wish her success in attaining that goal.

Raise hell now cause they'll come a time when you'll have to set the example. Believe me, I know!! Best of luck in the future and keep on smiling - you cute that way. Remember me as one of the corrupt seniors.
I'll be back next year if something doesn't stop me & I'll see you then -
Be good - take care!!

Love & luck
Gail 5x'

KAREN KATHERINE JUST

"Thought is deeper than all speech Feeling deeper than all thought"

"Oklahoma!" is the cry from Kay's room and she's already acquired a noticeable accent from afore mentioned state! On and off diets, Kay is either typing for the Yearbook or enjoying her parents' parties. Happy-go-lucky Kay has a laughable manner and is never seen without her silver dollar or her Princeton banner. Her contribution to Stoneleigh's sports is in hockey as goalie and as guard in basketball. We have all been invited to our 25th reunion at Kay's ranch which will be second in size only to the King Ranch in Texas.

JANE MARLOWE McSWEENEY

*"Take all there is—take hand and heart—
There must be somewhere work to do"*

Short and cute as a button, Janey has a strong interest in MANY various members of the opposite sex! Though having trouble with Spanish pronunciation, Janey seems to have no trouble with an inexhaustible supply of clothes for any occasion and her thoughts generally run along that line. Extra-curricular wise, Janey is Vice-President of her class and also the Athletic Council. She always looks forward to winter when she revels in Ski-land. However, after winter has passed, she can turn to her other love, golf, in which she has won several trophies. Best of luck is wished to this versatile senior.

Suz.
It was surprising when I opened this paper and saw the stories in the paper. I got the last two of the news left with me in the it certainly has been great knowing you and hearing about all your experiences and various weird friends. I must realize of changing my work. Well Suz. I'll see and hope to be a great gal. Love - Janey.

LINDA MARIE MAIUZZO

*"She kept her honesty and truth
Her independent tongue and pen"*

Lin, as Editor-in-chief of our "Liber Anni" has had a busy year, and as you all can see, the results are well worth her many "head-aches." Besides this time consuming job, no activity could be mentioned in which Lin does not participate, and incidentally, participates with enthusiasm. Her wide range of interests include journalism ('55 High Times Editor), swimming, skiing and hockey, not to mention that centered in the Mid-West! Lin always seems to have a never-ending supply of homemade food with which she is very generous. We predict she will work hard and succeed in whatever field she pursues. Good luck, Lin!

BETTY-ANN MORITZ

"A charm attends her every where A sense of beauty"

Bam is a tall, well-dressed blonde with a slight Southern accent and a gay manner. She takes part in Glee Club, and is seldom seen without her trusty camera employed in the interest of "Liber Anni." A star player in basketball, Bam is also serious about her school work and is generally moaning about her Spanish! Her excitement about college weekends is balanced by her calm manner in dealing with Little Sisters. Bam hopes to have a career in either Medical Technology or Social Work and it is a sure bet that she will succeed in whatever she pursues.

Dear Sue,

Still can't believe it!!! It's been great knowing you this past year - Will never forget our various train trips.
- Sunbathing - boy and you red + etc. r
Whose this new flame
- Can't keep track of them. Seriously
Sue best of luck next two years in those following
Keep that hair lion

SARAH PLUMMER

"And still my charming Sally praise, Sweet smiling and sweet spoken."

Liberace has nothing on talented Sally! She assumes her honor of chapel pianist with a modest smile and creates a pleasant atmosphere in the living room with a few casual chords. She is also known for close harmony with good marks and a certain blond-haired young man! Sally is ably suited as class treasurer and has been also elected to an office in the Glee Club and is Co-editor of the Yearbook. She is teased about her Boston accent, although she often confers with "Eli's"! Sally's sweet temperament and happy disposition make her a sure candidate for success.

DANA WOODBERRY

"Remember all things fair and good That e'er were dreamed or understood."

Envied for one of the smallest waists in the class, Dana is tall with a charming old-world hairdo. She is interested in Art, particularly sculpture. Dana has had success in riding and skiing, with a little skating thrown in. Her prowess in form-swimming has frequently pulled Stoneleigh out of the depths! Dana's ready laugh is constantly accompanied by the click-clack of her knitting needles. With her natural manner, she is in line for college success.

GRETCHEN WUSTLICH

"A girl who boasts no borrowed charms, Whose sprightly wit my fancy warms"

Known for her Vermont accent and subtle humor, Gret is extremely talented in the field of Art and has won a Quill and Scroll membership. She does very well in many sports, mainly soccer and basketball, and participates in an assortment of activities. Gret hopes to go to school where she can further a career in Fashion Illustration. Her natural habitat is the rural countryside of the north where she has had some amusing incidents concerning cows! Gret's sketches have become a trademark (samples throughout) which will be looked for in the future as a sure sign of her achievement.

Don't forget

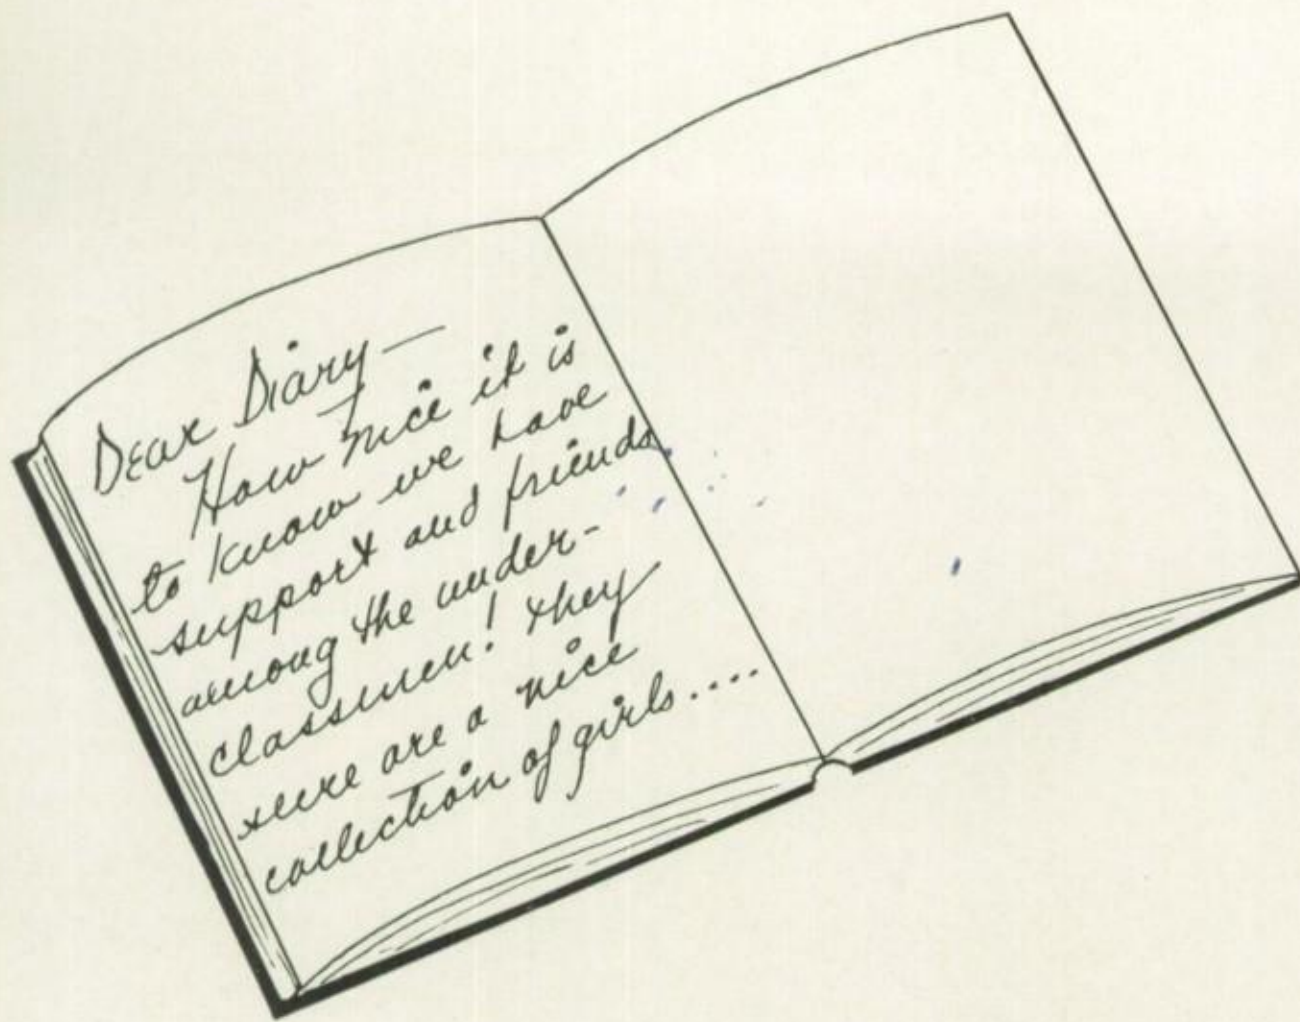

NATALIE ANNE YATES

*"For hath she not the magic touch—
The sesame of loving much?"*

Nat is usually seen writing letters to "Deep in the Heart of Texas" or listening to the vibrant notes of Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. 2. A two-year gal, Nat has made a place for herself at Stoneleigh and especially this year as Literary Editor of "Liber Anni," and chairman of the Chapel Committee. Admired for her lady-like qualities and delicate features, Nat is often compared to a cameo picture. She thinks a great deal of her "economy sized" family, and entertains us with many delightful stories about them. She is a willing helper and is seen with scorebook in hand, withstanding wind, rain, and cold to "chalk us up" another point. Nat will be a credit to any college and career she chooses.

*Dear Sisters "Superior":
We can't imagine ourselves as upper-classmen, but we are trying to gain some dignity before we assume your exalted position next year.
We have the distinction of being the largest class in school—twenty-five in all—with fifteen new additions last Fall. We also have the distinction of having classmates who come from the furthest distances Renate Kohn-Olaya from Bogota, Columbia, Gina Johnson and Elsa Kentnich from the Chicago, Illinois area. Our twins—Gail and Pat Robison—give us another claim to fame.
Wicky Hunt and Weezie Salinger represent us on the Activities Council; our president and vice-president sit on the House Council along with our able Proctors: Sherrie Stephens and Barbara Kaye; and we are honored to have three Juniors on that austere body, the Executive Council: Sue Kendall, Rennie Kohn-Olaya and Weezie Salinger.
Our big activity was re-opening "Underseas" and, under the able management of Sue Campbell, selling pies, cakes and cokes after evening Study Hall and over the weekend. We sponsored a dance with Kimball Union and expect to put on the Country Fair as well as the usual Junior Prom.
The editorial board of High Times is made up largely of Juniors, with Sue Kendall as editor-in-chief and Marianne Olney as assistant editor.
Our officers are President Patricia Robison; Vice-President Suzanne Kendall; Secretary: Gail Robison; Treasurer: Phyllis Smith. Dr. Knowles has acted as Faculty Advisor.
Best of luck to you and we'll try to emulate your high standards.
Sincerely,
Class of 1957*

Junior Class

*Sue,
It's been great knowing you this year. I'll never forget all the giggly Spanish classes with the complements we ought to do. Don't forget us where we talked but elementary luck and Weezie Bird*

Weezie looks on as Winnie, Luey, and Liz pour over the welcome news from home.

Sue and Ann stop at the candy store for a late afternoon snack.

Dear Big Sisters:

Writing to you just half-way through the year, it seems a good time to take stock of ourselves and our aims. We got off to an enthusiastic start and, now that mid-years are over, it looks as though there's a good chance that we, too, will be seniors, bye and bye!

There are thirteen of us in the Sophomore class—almost all of us “new girls” last Fall. We’ve been called happy-go-lucky. Well, we know we are happy and we also think we’re lucky!

Our class officers, elected early in the Fall, have done a very competent job and have had good cooperation from the class. They are Helen Woodhull, president; Annabel Whitton, vice-president; Barbara Lloyd, secretary-treasurer.

Barbara Lloyd is the only underclassman chosen to be a Proctor and we are very proud of her. She sits on the House Council along with our President and Vice-president. We are represented on the Activities Council by Judy Chadwell, as chairman of the Social Committee. Myra Maker is also on this Council.

A pre-Christmas raffle of a sweater and a bracelet brought the first contributions to our treasury. We have plans afoot for sponsoring a winter dance and selling hot chocolate and doughnuts. We are grateful to Mrs. Mathews for her guidance.

Our best wishes,
Class of 1958

Freshmen Class

Class member Barhydt works on next day's assignments industriously.

Dear Seniors:

We Freshmen were quite awed by you in our first weeks at school. Now we know that wherever there's special gaiety and goings-on, we can count on finding that you've sparked the fun.

We think we've got the best class in school, of course—and we certainly got off to a good start under the able leadership of our elected officers:

President Sydney Anne Johnson
Vice-president Marjorie Barhydt
Secretary-Treasurer Betsy Barry

Barbie Meistrell represents us on the Activities Council and we are proud of our seven classmates who have made the Honor Roll quite consistently during the year.

Mrs. Deems has been a wonderful class advisor and we are grateful to her for her cooperation and inspiration.

In November we gave a cake raffle that was very successful and brought high profits. We sponsored a dance with Williston Academy and are planning another before the year is over.

We've been told that our financial prowess equals yours, and we are hoping that our initial success will be multiplied throughout our Stoneleigh years.

With affectionate thanks for your guidance,

Class of 1959

Our "baby class" listens to the reading of the Constitution.

Dear Seniors:

It seems a long way from our Sub-freshman status to your lofty one, but judging from the speed with which this half year has flown, we're almost there.

There are just six of us, but what we lack in numbers we make up for in other ways. We have a lively time in class with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Lacaille, and we manage to get around in other things. Kate Coleman has made the Honor Roll all year and has the privilege of studying in her own room. Betty Killam and Earlyne Cook represent us on the Activities Council.

First money in our treasury came from a food sale in November. We netted $3.72 on this sale.

Our class officers are:

President: Kate Coleman

Vice-president: Susan Pratt

Secretary: Mary Riley

Treasurer: Linda Strecker

And, of course, Mrs. Smith is our esteemed advisor.

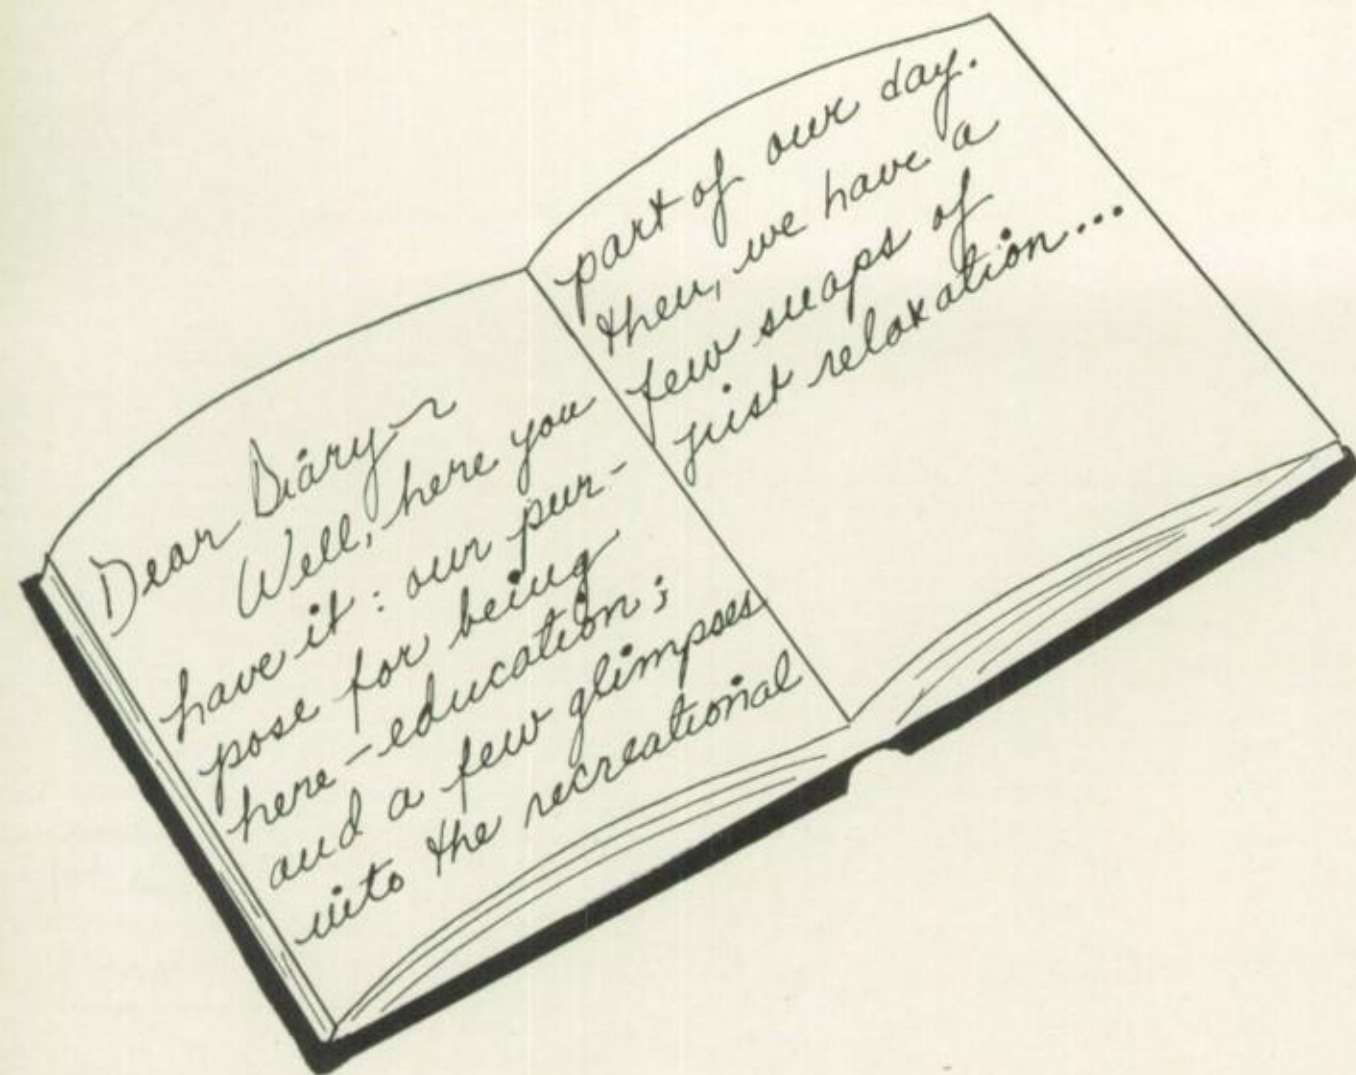

We are looking forward to four more successful and profitable years at Stoneleigh.

Sincerely,
Class of 1960

Organizations

Advisor, Mrs. Frederick, discusses current Yearbook business with the staff: Editor L. Maiuzzo, B. Flashman, K. Just, N. Yates, B. Moritz, G. Wustlich. Missing: S. Plummer, Co-editor.

Liber Anni

Every senior class is apt to be proud of its Yearbook and we have a satisfied glow now that our project nears completion. The work Linda Maiuzzo and Sally Plummer, Editor and Co-editor, have put into layout and organization has been supported by contributions in the Photography Department by Bam Moritz, in the Art Department by Gretchen Wustlich, in the Literary Department by Natalie Yates, and in the "general advisory department" by Mrs. Frederick.

We are delightfully surprised and pleased with our handiwork as it takes shape and are most grateful to our photographer, DeKane, and to the Keller Yearbook Printing Company. The originality and diligence of the staff and the cooperation of the whole school are two very necessary elements in making a volume out of words and photographs.

We hope that when you read this now and in later years, it will bring a feeling of affection for your school and classmates. Your happy memories as you wander through "The Past" will be a pleasure to us who have tried to produce a gay and successful "Liber Anni."

The staff works diligently to meet the deadline.

High Times

This humorous and newsy publication is received with avid interest when it appears three or four times a year. Especially popular is the gossip column, written by a mysterious and anonymous flea named "Davenport."

In previous years, High Times has always been the project of the Junior Class. This year, however, competition for the staff was thrown open to the entire school. Most of those who made the editorial posts turned out to be Juniors after all, with one Senior exception, and several underclassmen made the grade as reporters.

Sue Kendall's work as editor-in-chief, with the expert advice of Mrs. Frederick, has certainly been worthwhile. She was ably assisted by the following: Marianne Olney, Assistant Editor; Sue Campbell, News Editor; Patsy Robison, Art Editor; Brenda Cosseboom, Photography Editor; Sherrie Stephens, Sports Editor; and Barbara Holden, Social News Editor.

STAFF: S. Campbell, B. Cosseboom, S. Stevens, Mrs. Frederick, M. Olney, P. Robison, P. Smith. Seated: B. Holden, Editor S. Kendall.

Student

Executive Council

To preserve dignity and law-observance at Stoneleigh we have the Executive Committee, the "Supreme Court," which is the last appeal and the closest link to the Administration. It is made up of eight girls who are representatives of the three Student Councils: Athletic, Activities, and House.

Though they may have a weighty job, all are fair, just, and try hard to choose the best procedure, called for in each case. They are willing to discuss any problem concerned with the betterment of the school and the equanimity of each student.

The purpose of this Committee is to strengthen the whole organization of Stoneleigh and give a greater feeling of participation in school activities and discipline.

Front row: N. Yates, J. McSweeney, M. Salinger.
Second row: S. Mowry, R. Kohn-Oliva, S. Kendall, K. Brooks. Missing: B. Lloyd.

Activities Council

"All the name implies and more . . ." is a very suitable quote for this very active group. Led by president Karen Brooks, it is a composite of seven girls including the Chairmen of the Chapel Committee, Nat Yates, the Program Committee, Karen Brooks, and the Social Committee, Judy Chadwell. These committees arrange daily chapel and Sunday night Vespers, procure speakers for Friday nights, plan other educational projects, and carry out social functions (including ushering, refreshments, etc.).

Having a hand in all the social and intellectual goings-on of S.P.H. puts a permanent smile on each member's face and a twinkle in each eye. They try to keep the girls society-minded and busy. We think they've done a mighty fine job!

Front row: M. Maker, J. Chadwell, B. Meistrell. Second row:
President K. Brooks, N. Yates, M. Salinger, M. Hunt.

Council

House Council

This is the body of students that cares for our demerits and special privileges. It is composed of the president and vice-president of each class, president of the sub-freshman class, the proctors, and the housemothers, who are the faculty representatives.

The honorable president is Anne Burnham who is ably supported by Bam Moritz, secretary. The members are representatives of each class and their duty is to carry problems and suggestions to the girls for discussion while they also review rules, regulations and several improvements of living at Stoneleigh.

As a whole, the House Council is an invaluable organization and we're certainly relieved to have our problems in the hands of those with such able minds!

Glee Club Officers: S. Funston, President N. Cusack, K. Brooks, S. Plummer.

Glee Club

"Do, re, mi . . ." is the cry from Coleman Hall every Monday afternoon at four-thirty as Mrs. Esther Clapp Norris leads her songstresses through their paces. The Glee Club has sixty-four members this year, and the Madrigal Group is composed of eighteen girls selected from the larger group. Both have made several guest appearances in Greenfield and Deerfield, as well as rendering the Christmas program following the Tableaux.

Always looked forward to is participating in the Deerfield Academy Operetta given at Commencement time, as Stoneleigh girls have done for many years. One of Gilbert and Sullivan's gay satires, chosen and directed by Mr. Ralph Oatley, director of the Deerfield Academy Glee Club, will again be the fare this June. The hard and intensive work this entails is more than made up for by the fun of the occasion and the opportunity to increase musical knowledge.

Singing the main role as president of the Glee Club is Nancy Cusack, who has thrilled her audiences with solo performances on several occasions. Karen Brooks plays a supporting role as Secretary, and Sally Plummer and Suzanne Funston keep everybody on key by taking charge of the music.

Madrigal Singers rehearse before a concert. Members include the following: A. Barger, S. Campbell, B. Cosseboom, N. Cusack, S. Funston, B. Holden, R. Kohn-Olaya, E. MacInnis, J. McSweeney, L. Maiuzzo, B. Moritz, M. Morley, S. Mowry, M. Olney, S. Plummer, C. Robinson, D. Woodberry.

Dramatic Club

Christopher Morley and Stoneleigh had a pleasant chat last Fall when the Dramatic Club produced the former's "Rehearsal," a one-act play complete with Irish brogue. The play was particularly adaptable to the facilities in Coleman Hall as neither costumes nor scenery were needed. Now that we have new and beautiful red velvet drapes, more demanding scenic performances can be staged.

The Christmas Tableaux were as breath-taking as always and a capacity audience was deeply appreciative.

Miss Henriette Ottesen steps out of her role as Mensendieck director to guide the Stoneleigh Thespians in these efforts. Eighteen girls meet with her on Monday and Friday afternoons throughout the school year.

The student director is Betty Ann Moritz whose Junior assistant is Sherrie Stephens. Cosse has a big job as stage manager and does it most competently.

At least one more play is anticipated in the Spring, probably out of doors if the custom of former years is followed. This will give the dramatic group a chance to discover further talent and to indulge in a favorite pastime—acting!

This group also sponsors a Spring Fashion Show, a very popular event. The girls themselves have the opportunity to select and model the apparel furnished by a Greenfield department store. The actual participants and the directors obtain valuable experience in this interesting field.

The following girls have tread the boards this year: Anne Burnham, Suzanne Campbell, Kate Coleman, Brenda Cosseboom, Catherine Craig, Nancy Cusack, Suzanne Funston, Margaret Hunt, Karen Just, Lee MacInnis, Linda Maiuzzo, Betty Ann Moritz, Mary Riley, Stephanie Ritzmann, Carol Robinson, Sherrie Stephens, Gretchen Wustlich, and Natalie Yates.

In addition to gaining valuable dramatic knowledge the members of the dramatic group attain grace and poise, having fun all the while.

Dramatic Club Officers: S. Stephens, President B. Moritz, B. Cosseboom.

The cast of "Rehearsal," hard at work, are N. Cusack, B. Cosseboom, C. Craig, S. Ritzmann, L. Maiuzzo and N. Hackett.

Athletic Council

*Front row: J. McSweeney, G. Wustlich, B. Moritz.
Second row: R. Kohn-Olaya, S. Kendall, Mrs. Kells,
S. Mowry.*

Besides planning the sports program, as suggested in the obvious title of this group, the Athletic Council sponsors the annual variety show, "Stoneleigh Scandals." All Stoneleigh turns out for this gay show and it's often a surprise to see all the talent contained in our schoolmates' repertoire. There are annual horseshows with Burnham and Smith Colleges, not to mention a Gymkhana in May and an inter-team horseshow between the Chanticleers and Corazons in early June.

The Athletic Council is presided over by Sandra Mowry, with Sue Kendall as vice-president, and Rennie Kohn-Olaya as secretary. The faculty advisor is Mrs. Kells and other members are Jane McSweeney, "Bam" Moritz, and Gretchen Wustlich. They keep our school afternoons busy and active with hockey, soccer, basketball, softball, and many other activities.

*Riding Club Officers: H. Woodhull, Mrs. Goodyear, B. Moritz. On horseback: M. Williams, President
S. Mowry.*

Front row: E. Kentnich, H. Woodhull, B. Moritz, G. Robison, B. Holden. Second row: J. Chadwell, A. Barger, D. Arthur, P. Smith, V. Barth, W. Steele, K. Cartmell, M. Barhydt, Mrs. Goodyear, S. Mowry, G. Goerke. On horseback: M. Williams, M. Hunt.

Riding Club

Tally-ho—and we're off again! Whether it's our annual gymkhana or the all day trail ride, the barn is buzzing with excitement, for the Riding Club is responsible for these two events, among other things. The sixteen "chosen few" found it necessary to conquer a dangerous obstacle before becoming a member of the "Hoofprints Club"—the grueling test prepared by Mrs. Goodyear. Sore muscles and body fatigue in general are quite prevalent after our all day horse shows. Here we try to exhibit our "expert horsemanship," over jumps and hunt courses as well as emulate our idols whom we saw this Fall in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden.

The club is ably guided by the following officers:

President: Sandy Mowry

Vice-President: Betty Ann Moritz

Secretary: Marian Williams

Treasurer: Helen Woodhull

Chanticleer Team

Synonymous for a "cock," Chanticleer is indeed an appropriate name, as the team is raring to go, full of fight, cocky, and "never say die!" Sandy Mowry, our enthusiastic captain, has led the Chanticleers to victory on many occasions.

Front row: N. Yates, B. Cosseboom, M. Riley, G. Wustlich, C. Stickney, Captain S. Mowry, A. Barger, J. Hale, S. Johnson, D. Jenks. Second row: M. Marks, S. Pratt, M. Morley, J. Sisson, J. Chadwell, L. Falk, B. Kaye, C. Robinson. Third row: G. Hawthorne, A. Burnham, S. Ritzmann, E. Coffey, D. Serafin, J. Copeland, E. Kentnich, I. Carey, N. Cusack, L. MacInnis, L. Ciani, B. Meistrell.

Stoneleigh has divided its student body into two teams—the Chanticleers and Corazons. Each girl remains a member of the team on which she is placed during her years at Stoneleigh. Throughout the year, we have intermural play-days and one team must win two out of three games in hockey, soccer, basketball, and softball to earn points; all remaining sports are competitive. Gradually, the teams accumulate points and at the end of the year, they are tallied up and the silver cup is awarded to the team with the greatest number of points.

Corazon Team

The Blue or Corazon team embodies all the qualities of it's Spanish derivation, "heart" by being a team with great spirit and sportsmanship. The Corazon's are under the guidance of our energetic Captain Jane McSweeney.

Front row: N. Hackett, S. Kendall, E. Cook, E. McDowell, L. Strecker, Captain J. McSweeney, C. Curtis, W. Hunt, S. Funston, B. Moritz, B. Holden. Second row: D. Woodberry, E. Metcalf, L. Bird, M. Salinger, C. Craig, E. Black, S. Stephens, G. Goerke, E. Killam, K. Just, L. Maiuzzo, K. Brooks. Third row: V. Barth, K. Cartmell, W. Steele, P. Smith, R. Kohn-Olaya, S. Kendall, P. Robison, K. A favorite FALL PASTIME is encamping on a sunny hill to catch up on correspondence and get a bit of sun. Five charming maidens pose in front of the corral to compare tans acquired in the previous summer.

A bell sharply cut through classes to proclaim a tensely awaited holiday—MOUNTAIN DAY! The majority of the school was ready and waiting for the bus to carry us to the scene of an all day picnic.

Jeans were the happily—donned garb as they proved helpful for climbing barns, falling down mountains, throwing apples, etc. . . .

Linda and Burnie almost lost each other with their exultation over the pastoral scene, viewed from the summit of Mount Sugarloaf.

Decorating for the VERMONT ACADEMY DANCE is as gay as any party. Crepe paper streamers seem to fascinate Sue and Bam, while Gail works busily.

The first highlight of the November social program was the WILLISTON DANCE. Sandy and her date pause obligingly for our photographer.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES are such fun for all and provide a pleasant break in an evening of study. Here, Brooksie does the honors.

The surprise HALLOWE'EN PARTY on October 31 was crashed by two very shady-looking characters who baffled the more refined Stoneleigh girls. After parading mysteriously around the living room, they disappeared and later returned as . . .?

Robin, Mrs. Frederick, and Tommy Emerson make a very homey picture when seated at the piano. It really helps one to feel at home upon seeing this scene.

In December a decoration party ensues in the dining room while the seniors made Stoneleigh look festive for the DEERFIELD FORMAL.

The dance is on! Happy couples wish each other a Merry Christmas while waltzing around the dance floor.

The queen, Nancy Cusack smiles with pride as the shutter clicked to end a wonderful evening.

The seniors uphold an old tradition of secretly DECORATING THE TREE after taps. Almost as much fun is had in the decorating as in the triumphant view of the finished work!

A short rehearsal before TABLEAUX gives slight glimpses of the beauty of the Christmas program at Stoneleigh.

"Wine, women, and song" is the famed expression quoted by a large group of white-gowned gals at the CHRISTMAS BANQUET when students and faculty gather for a gay, song-filled meal.

"... and I in my cap" causes a giggle to ripple through the crowd as Flash recites "The Night Before Christmas" during the entertainment which followed the Banquet.

To top off 1955, Janie and Sandy celebrate their birthdays together as a last fling before CHRISTMAS VACATION!

Back to work in '56, Sally and Linda combine their efforts to make LIBER ANNI a success!

"Frailty, thy name is woman?" We'll show 'em!

Chief cook and bottle washer pauses to say—"Oh, how lovely cooks the meat!"

Dear Diary ~

Well, here's the finished product and the year is nearly over. It's a sad thing leaving you, so many pages; and it's truly a sad thing to leave our friends. But many friendships will last through the years, if only by mail, which will be strong and deep. Happy life here at Stoneleigh.

It is our hope that you who read this book and leaf through its pages will feel that you have been a part of your life here, that this part of your life has been a full and pleasant one. Someday, some of you will be recording your senior year at Stoneleigh in just such a book as this. Till that day, and for many days to follow, remember that we who wrote this did so with you in mind, to remind you of this year, ending June 6, 1956.

With love and sincerity,
The Class of 1956.

BALANCED CONTROL OF INTERNATIONAL ADVERTISING

The Robert Otto & Company policy: centralized and local control in proper balance makes for more efficient advertising

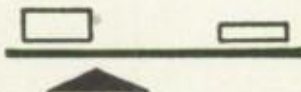

There is no blanket formula for the efficient administration of international advertising budgets. Type of product, manufacturing and distributing set-up, the nature of individual markets—these are the factors which must determine your particular form of advertising control. When you choose an international advertising agency, be sure it can give you the type of control you need.

"Balanced control of international advertising" this is the method, the slogan, of Robert Otto & Company. Our offices and associates throughout the world, and our foreign-trained staff here at home, work together to strike the best possible balance of control for each client, in each market.

Emphasis on centralized control

Dear Sue,

I've had to wait tell tell (see there I go repeating myself), you get a load of this travelling jester

Obviously I am a lousy writer and I want to apologize
for this wild mess -!!

Isn't Golf a riot
Man what a Ball -

It sure is going to be a jazzy summer
I can't wait -- If Chad and I get past the Rhode Island or Mass. line we will bunk up your way in my new cool cat.

Let's really heat it up these next few days Eh what - Hale and I will come through the wall one of these nights and we will really have a "Blast" -

Good luck in driving this summer and don't do anything drastic --!!!

Keep up the ole Crazy Otto rhythm and you'll be as fizzy at home as you are up here - You're a great kid and it has been cool knowing such a cat as you -

Remember the B.B. and the sunbaths Here it is exam time and I am still reading TRUE Confessions - Will Thots Life at the far end -

See ya round the Campus
- God Bless
Take ya loads
"A lot of love"

Dear Sue -

It's been great fun knowing you this year and I hope you always have the best of luck in everything and much success always -

Love

2150

Love
Glen
